WHAT MAKES A GREAT GOLF OUTING?

ORGANIZATION: Whether your event has a few foursomes or 144 golfers, organization is the key to success. You need a golf course that is not only prepared for your group on the day of the event, but a course that can help you with pre-event planning; everything from arranging the format for golf to making dinner arrangements. You need a golf course that is experienced in running outings so that you can focus on having an enjoyable day yourself.

GOLF COURSE QUALITY: Whether your outing has scratch golfers or novice players (or a mixture of both), you want to offer your participants a quality golf experience that is challenging yet not overwhelming, and one that offers top-notch conditions as well as scenic beauty.

EXCELLENT FOOD: Golf outings are about much more than just golf. Participants want to enjoy good food and spirited festivities.

FRIENDLY SERVICE: Golf is fun. You want to be served by friendly, accommodating people who are dedicated to making sure that everyone has an enjoyable day.

PRICE: Whether you are running a charity event, a corporate outing, or a gathering for friends, price is the bottom line. You need a reasonable price for golf and food so that the event can be kept under budget.
